

Leading & Influencing - Follow-up

Want to brush up on styles – Work with us again on practical application of the approach and philosophy used in the seminar?

The day will be a chance to:

- Reflect on what happened when you applied what you had learnt on leading & Influencing
- Input on new insights into importance of entry – helping overcome people’s fear of vulnerability and shame
- Supporting a positive culture in your organization or team using communication styles
- Learn some simple ways of getting others to act better in teams – listening, sharing and collaborating
- Act again as consultant, client and observer in coaching sessions using the four styles
- Make an action plan to continue your development of your leadership and communication skills.

Suitable only for people who have attended the 3 day Leading & Influencing Programme of Intelligent Action Ltd
